THE WHOLE TRUE STORY OF DARK SHADOWS

Note From The Editor: Here's a reminder to Dark Shadows viewers who have been watching the show for less than a year. Mention made in the recent chapters of this series regarding Reverend Trask's "resurrection" (by Professor Stokes) refers to Trask's original appearance on the show — and is in no way connected with the recent episodic ending of the "1897 flashback". Bear in mind that the writers of Dark Shadows scripts take enormous liberties and at times loose ends are simply left "untied". The action in this chapter of The Whole True Story Of Dark Shadows is action that took place on the television screen more than a year ago.

AFTER Professor Stokes has evoked the physical embodiment of Reverend Trask from its entombment in the basement of the old house, Reverend Trask's spirit is left to take its revenge on the two people who are responsible for Trask's troubles in the past — the witch Angelique and the vampire Barnabas Collins. Trask has trapped Barnabas in the cellar and paraded before him the ghosts of people whose deaths he was responsible for. The bodies of Jeremiah Collins, Nathan Forbes, Ruby Tate, Maude Browning and Suki Forbes appear before a judge. Reverend Trask asks each person how they died and each responds by saying they died at the will of Barnabas Collins. Then the judge says that the verdict is death for Barnabas, and at that instant each spirit disappears except the spirit of Reverend Trask. Trask turns to Barnabas and tells him to take his last look at the light!

At that moment, Julia once again returns to the old house — still searching for Barnabas. She hears sounds downstairs and goes down to look, but when she gets to the basement she sees only the wall — which has been sealed off again! She doesn't know that Barnabas Collins is trapped behind that wall!

ADAM RETURNS!

Meanwhile, Angelique — who is now in the disguise of Cassandra, Roger's second wife — finds that Professor Stokes is still alive, though she has assigned Tony Peterson to kill him. She summons Tony and reprimands him for not succeeding in killing Stokes. She warns him that he had better be more careful in the future. Tony, who is completely under Cassandra's spell, says that he will do a better job next time. As they kiss, Tony looks over her shoulder and sees Elizabeth watching them from a window. Cassandra turns and sees Elizabeth too — and she tells Tony to leave.

Later, Elizabeth reproaches Cassandra, saying, "I saw what you were doing and I definitely will tell Roger about it when he returns."

Cassandra just smiles evilly and says, "No, you won't, my dear. You're not going to be able to bother anyone with your petty gossip. You're going to be too busy worrying about your imminent death!!"

Knowing that Elizabeth has a deep-seated phobia about being buried alive, she leaves the poor woman to her own horrible thoughts!

That evening, Maggie drops by the old house to visit Barnabas and Willie. When Maggie asks for Barnabas, Willie says that he hasn't returned home — neither of them being able to hear Barnabas' frantic knocking behind the wall in the cellar. Maggie tells Willie to call her when Barnabas comes home.

Later that evening, Willie goes to Maggie Evans' house. As he arrives, he sees Joe Haskell, her steady boy friend, leaving. Joe grabs Willie and tells him to stay away from Maggie. In the resulting struggle, Joe slugs Willie in the mouth — and then hurries away. Willie crawls to Maggie's door, opens it and falls on the rug.

As Maggie starts to bathe his face with a cool cloth, Adam comes rushing in. He somehow gets the idea that Willie has tried to harm Maggie — and the two of them begin to tussle. Maggie screams and just at that moment her father, Sam Evans, comes rushing in. Adam recognizes the blind Sam as his friend — but when Sam tries to appease his anger, Adam goes into a rage and starts to hit Sam full force with his fists. Sam falls to the floor, and when Adam sees what he has done he runs off into the forest — leaving Willie behind to call an ambulance.

Can Sam Evans be saved? Will Barnabas be discovered behind the sealed-off wall before it's too late? Be sure to get the May issue of 16 — which goes on sale March 26 — to find out what happens in the continuing Whole True Story Of Dark Shadows!!

DARK SHADOWS GOSSIP

Michael Maitland

SURPRISE! In real life, Michael Maitland — who played "Michael" on Dark Shadows — has dark brown hair. For his part as the 14-year-old blond "messianic" Leviathan leader, Michael wore a blond wig. Here's a pic of how he looks au naturel. For another picture of adorable Mike Maitland, turn to Page 54 — where Michael is the host to this month's Dark Shadows Letters. Mike, by the by, was born on August 27, 1956. He is five feet and three inches tall, has dark brown hair and blue-green eyes. He lives in New York City with his mom, dad and two older sisters. He goes to Professional Children's School (the same school David Henesy attends) and he has a spaniel pup named "Candy". He likes girls who are considerate and warm, but who dig excitement and who see beauty in everything. You can write to Michael Maitland (and all the other DS regulars) c/o 16 Magazine, 745 Fifth Avenue, New York City 10022.

Don't be surprised if David Selby cuts a country and western LP! . . . Lucky New Yorkers got to see adorable Denise Nickerson in a starring role — along with Henry Fonda and Ed Begley — in a special New York production of Our Town. She played the role of "Rebecca Gibbs" . . . Soon you'll be able to see David Henesy's groovy mom actress Jeanne Avery at your local movie house — she's co-starring in a flick called (er — ah) Female Animal.

David Selby on Parade!

ALL THE WORLD loves a parade — an “oom-pah-pah”, cymbal-clashing, drum-rolling parade! And can you think of anything more exciting than a parade in which David Selby is the star attraction?! Yup — that’s what happened in Baltimore, Maryland, when Tom Fleming, an executive of WJZ-TV in Baltimore, invited David to lead off the motorcade in that city’s patriotic “I Am An American” Day parade! Just about all of Baltimore turned out to see and say “hi” to David, who was overwhelmed and delighted by the enthusiasm and love shown him by you — his fans! Let’s start marching now and join David on parade!!

“Sign here, David!” “Just one more picture, please!” Bombarded by requests like these, David obliged as many fans as possible with his ever-ready smile. And this was just at the beginning of the parade—when things hadn’t really started yet! Can you find David in this pic?!

As the motorcade made its way down Baltimore’s main street, David was amazed by the crowd on hand to greet him! He was really excited to see how many loyal and loving fans he and all of the Dark Shadows people have! You’re not surprised, though—are you?!

Sitting on top of the seat in his chauffeur-driven limousine (!) and surrounded by—not one, not two—but 16 bodyguards, David stopped every now and then along the parade route to sign more autographs and pose for pictures.

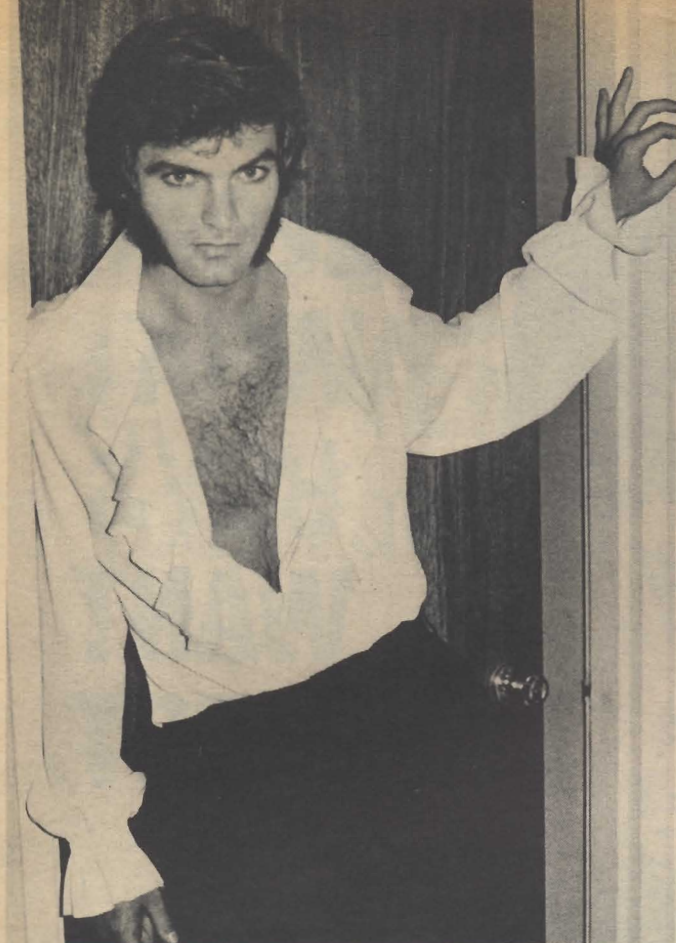

Taking a rest in the spectators’ box, David is joined by his limousine driver and an ABC-TV official (both left)—and by Baltimore’s “Miss Constitution” and “Miss I Am An American,” both of whom were part of the patriotic parade.

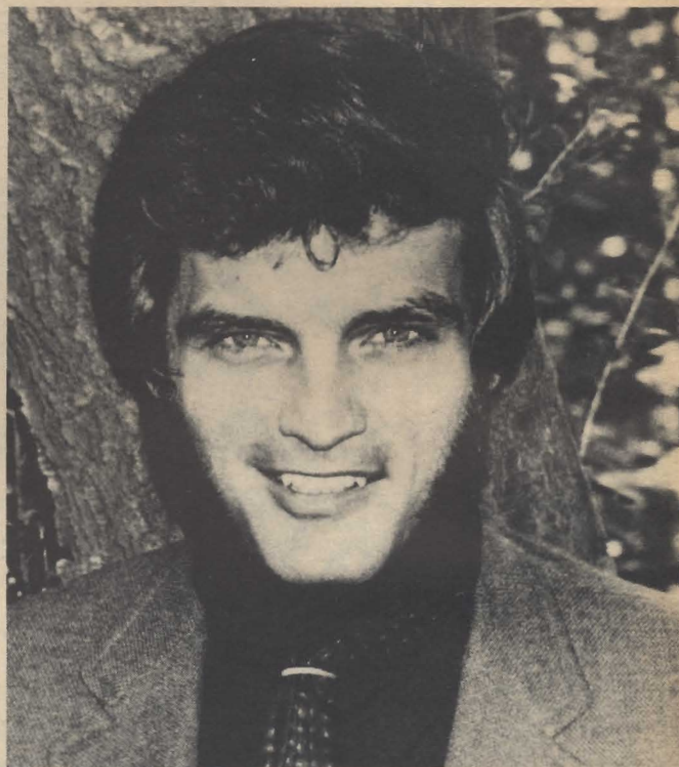

One of the highlights of David’s “parade day” was joining Tom Fleming (right) to watch the great baton twirlers and marching bands from the area. David really enjoyed visiting Baltimore and seeing his Baltimore fans. Maybe next time it’ll be your town and your parade!!

David Henesy: "This is my very favorite picture of myself because it shows the serious side of me—and, also, I'm wearing my favorite 'specs'! This shot was taken by none other than Dark Shadows regular Roger Davis."

"Roger also took the pic (top) of my mom Jeanne Avery, who's also in the acting 'biz'—and that sinister picture of 'Jamison' (bottom) was taken by 16's editor during dress rehearsals at Dark Shadows last year."

Michael Stroka: " 'Aristede' in a gentle mood?! Well, it's actually me during dress rehearsal at Dark Shadows one day last fall. I was feeling introspective when David Henesy surprised me and snapped this picture."

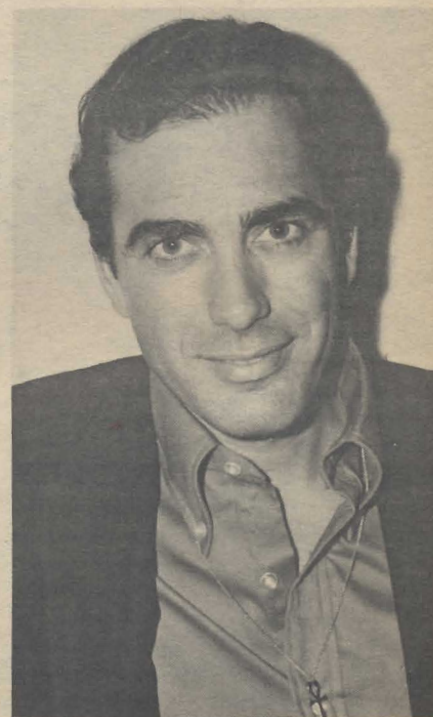

Christopher Pennock: Gloria snapped this picture of me in my favorite Afghanistan jacket the very first time I visited the offices of 16. I hope you like it as much as I do."

Roger Davis: "If my favorite picture looks very un-Dark Shadow-ish—well, don't be surprised. This is one of the publicity shots from my movie Parachute To Paradise."

Denise Nickerson: "Of all the Dark Shadows roles I've played, I think I liked being 'Amy' best—and my favorite pic has not only captured the essence of me, but of 'Amy' also."

Jerry Lacy: "Surprise! It's me, Jerry Lacy—that Dark Shadows 'man of many faces'! This is another sample of Gloria Stavers' handiwork and I hope you like seeing the real me for a change!"

Dear Jonathan,

In all of the stories I've read about you in 16, you've never mentioned whether you have a car or not. Do you? If not, would you like to get one?

New Orleans, La.

Fredericka Alan

• Dear Fredericka,

Well, I do have a driver's license—and that's a step in the right direction! Actually, one doesn't need a car in New York City. Cabs are easy to get and besides, there's nowhere to park! If I ever did get a car, however, I think I would get a brand new Mustang—or some very sleek type of sportscar.

Jonathan Frid

Dear Dark Shadows gang,

In the "third flashback"—the 1897 one—a lot of mention was made of tarot cards. I am very curious about them. Could one of you explain them to me?

Jeannie Harrison

Laurens, S. C.

• Dear Jeannie,

I think I'm more the "tarot expert" than anyone else on the show, so I'll try to explain just a little about the cards to you. Tarot cards are believed to have originated in a very high Chinese culture many centuries ago. Since then, they have evolved through many societies, and most tarot decks nowadays have Egyptian symbols on them. By reading the tarot cards, one can learn—among other things—what their character is like, what their past held (including past lives), what influences are at work on them in the present, and what the future holds.

With each deck of tarot cards, there usually comes a book which tells you what the cards mean and how to "read" them.

Thayer David

Dear Kathryn,

After thinking it over, I decided to address my questions about Dark Shadows to you. I know that the Dark Shadows gang works very, very hard, but do you ever "play"? What I mean is, do you all socialize together or see each other—besides being together at the studio each day to do Dark Shadows? By the way, I see the word "Katie" in 16 once in a while in reference to a Dark Shadows regular — is that you?

Sarah Jane Smith
 Montgomery, Ala.

• Dear Sarah Jane,

Sure—the Dark Shadows gang socializes quite regularly! For instance, here's a pic of Jonathan and me at a recent ABC-TV costume party. Yes, indeed—I am the very Katie you read about in 16. Katie has long been my nickname and I like it very much!

Yours truly,

Katie

Dear David,

I know it's probably been printed in 16 and 16 SPEC, but somehow I missed getting the following information about you: your birthday and how old you are, the color of your hair, your height, weight and the color of your eyes. Could you please tell me these things?

Shari Smith

Fayetteville, Ark.

• Dear Shari,

I was born on October 20, 1955, so I am 14 years old. I have brown hair and brown eyes. I weigh 106 pounds and I stand five feet and three inches tall.

Love,
David Henesy
